KENTUCKY REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

We are opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver, believing that it would involve the country in financial ruin. We believe in a sound currency and in the use of both gold and silver for currency, provided always that a dollar in coin is made readily convertible into a dollar in the other.

We favor a tariff as regulated to protect the interests of all classes of our citizens upon articles that may be successfully manufactured or produced in this country, thus insuring support to the laborer and a home market for the producer; and in connection with this we favor the re-establishment of the doctrine of reciprocity.

We believe that such a system will defray our government expenses, gradually liquidate all our indebtedness, reduce public confidence and relieve to the very bottom the distresses now prevailing in the currency.

The Democratic party, its state bank system and wildcat currency, that the Republic party is the only party trusted to regulate the money of the Nation.

American policy which will give our American people and American interests in any part of all hazards and will summing Republic rather than Republicans in Washington City there will be a split in Kentucky which will elect Bradley and a lean Legislature. The result in Kentucky is looked upon both by Republicans and Democrats as the death blow to the present free silver agitation throughout the country, and most of them rejoice accordingly.

GENERAL GRANT had wonderful foresight. On his return from a trip around the world he predicted that with the construction of the Nicaragua Canal Japan and China would furnish a ready market for 3,000,000 to 5,000,000 bales of Southern cotton. Ex-Governor HUBBARD of Texas, who was Minister to Japan, under President CLEVELAND's first Administration, after careful examination estimated that Japan, China and Eastern Asia would, with the completion of the Nicaragua Canal, furnish a market for 10,000,000 bales of Southern cotton. The last number of The Manufacturers' Record contains a letter written to the editor of that paper by Mr. HASEGAWA, the Japanese Consul General at New York, in which, after speaking of the great recent development of cotton manufacturing in his country, he says: "Japan now can

With a gold standard platform and a free silver candidate for Governor, Kentucky Democrats ought to be harmonious and happy.

THE MAYNARD DRUG CO.

SPEECH RESTORED.

For five years I suffered from pain and discharge of the throat, hacking cough, frontal headache, and at times could not talk above a whisper; lost weight continually, and was unable to do any work. I was treated by the best physicians in this country, but received no relief. After getting up all hope, I was recommended to use a bottle of Mayer's Catarrh Cure. I used it for four weeks, my speech returned, all symptoms of catarrh have disappeared, and I feel like a different person.

LOSS OF LIFE.

Disastrous Fire Breaks Out in Minneapolis, Minn.

A Portion of the Ruins Fall, Crushing Several Firemen.

Six Men Taken Out Dead and One Other Friday Morning Five Others Were Missing—The Property Loss Will Amount to About $50,000.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 28.—At 11 o'clock Thursday night the most disastrous fire in the city broke out in point of life since the Tribune fire of 1890, broke out in the immense five story building at 240 and 242 First avenue south, occupied by McDonald Bros., wholesale grocery.

The first alarm was turned in at 11 o'clock, and was shortly followed by a second and third alarm, and a general call for the entire department. The blaze started in the rear of the upper stories, but soon communicated itself to the front of the building and then burst forth from the roof. In half an hour the roof gave way, and two minutes later a part of the side wall, crushing beneath it a group of firemen in the alleyway. Six were taken out dead, of which the bodies of John Eoy, John Horlick and Wallace Richardson were recognized.

Among the large number of injured were Ed Thelen, John Gray and Capt. Caldwell, and other bodies were supposed to be still in the ruins. The loss will be about $50,000.

Thelen, who was injured, died on the way to the hospital. There are still five firemen missing at 1 o'clock Friday morning. They are under a mass of debris in the fatal alley.

A GHOSTLY SCENE

At the Execution of Wife Murderer McDougall in the Old Penitentiary.

COLUMBUS, O., June 28.—The penitentiary annex was a scene of horror Thursday night. Michael McDougall, the wife murderer, preceded by the priest, stepped upon the trap at 12:55. The straps were at once adjusted.

The fall of the drop was followed by a gust of blood that splattered on the neck of the hanging man, and flowed down over his clothing in a torrent, filling in a pool at his feet. Drs. Rowles and Jones, who grasped the wraying figure, and counted the pulsations of heart and pulse, were soon as bloody as the victims in the shambles.

The spectators were horror-stricken, and many turned back. There was a fear in the mind of everyone that the rope would cut its way through the neck, and drop the headless corpse at their feet. Without motion or any sort of muscular convulsion, the body swung there until Dr. Jones lifted a face, showing pale through the blood upon it and said:

"He is dead, 12:59." It took but 11½ minutes for him to do, but every moment was an age to those who watched the hooded figure and heard the drip of the blood upon the stone floor.

When the body was lowered it was found that the knot had slipped to the back of the head, all the weight being sustained by a seven-foot drop upon the throat at the right of the noose. The rope had sunk into the tender flesh, tearing the jugular vein and the large blood vessels at the side of the neck. The throat was cut from ear to ear.

Mrs. Seager's screams attracted the attention of neighbors who rushed in and captured the man. At the police station he gave his name as James Cox, aged 45.

Mrs. Seager was unable to speak since being choked.

Dr. Deannan's Clothes Held.

COLUMBUS, O., June 28.—Upon a magistrate's judgment for $12.40, obtained by a hawker, the wearing apparel of Dr. Allen Deannan, a son of Ohio's late governor, and one of the best known young society men of Columbus, was sold at constable's sale on the public streets Thursday. Only twenty-one dollars was realized.
